

La Chambre Des A Poux

The sword opens with Aunt Polly crossing the fence in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom runs out dramatically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects carefully on Tom's mischief and how she has been put away with her work.

Tom crosses fence at supper time. During supper, Aunt Polly discovers that Tom's hands are covered with jam. She asks him what he has been doing, and he tells her that he has been playing hooky from school. She is angry and tells him that he must go to school tomorrow. Tom promises to do so, but she knows he will not.

Tom goes out of the house to play hooky from school. He goes to the streets of St. Petersburg and meets his friends. They go to the river and play for hours. Tom and the boys are very happy and enjoy their time together.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and wonders how he could have done that. She tells him that he must go to school tomorrow, but Tom promises to do so.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Tom goes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white alley," a kind of excuse. Tom almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his labor.
